JOHN EYRAUD, Proprietor.

In military prisons an offender is sometimes sentenced to carry cannon balls from one place to another and pile them up all day long. That is all. Perhaps it does not seem very terrible but it soon wears his life out. It is practically a death sentence, and he knows it; he would rather be shot. Many a sick man feels the same way about the burden of disease that he is lugging back and forth from day to day. He would as soon be down with a mortal disease. It will come to that sooner or later.

A man's life can be dragged out by dyspepsia and liver complaint. The experience of Mr. J. T. Cardwell, of Fall Creek Depot, Pennsylvania Co., shows how Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery saves people from consumption by waking up their nutritive organism and giving it power to supply pure, healthy blood, which drives out blood poisons and dead tissues and builds up sound, wholesome flesh and muscle.

"I feel it my duty," writes Mr. Cardwell in a letter to Dr. Pierce, "to write you of the lasting benefits derived from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Little's Pills. Seven years ago I contracted a severe cold, which baffled the skill of one of the best physicians in my State. It ran on and I continually grew worse until I concluded to write to the 'World's Dispensary Medical Association.' The answer to my inquiry advised me to use 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pills' for indigestion and liver complaint; at this time two months had passed in two or three days after I had connected the use of your medicine with my cough and critically escaped my death. I felt better, my low spirits driven away and I felt new life and vigor in my whole body. This 'discovery' and 'Pills' are a nerve force and rugged power. It is far better than any emulsion, it does not make fatty fat, it does not increase the weight of corpulent people.

A GLEAM OF PLEASURE.

Along the noisy city ways,
And in this rattling city car,
On this the dreariest of days,
Perplexed with business fret and jar,

When suddenly a young, sweet face
Looked on my pertulance and pain
And lent it something of its grace
And charmed it into peace again.

The day was just as bleak without,
My neighbors just as cold within,
And truth was just as full of doubt,
The world was just as full of sin.

But in the light of that young smile
The world grew pure, the heart grew warm,
And sunshine gleamed a little while
Across the darkness of the storm.

I did not care to seek her name.
I only said: "God bless thy life.
Thy sweet, young grace be still the same,
Or happy maid or happy wife."

MUSIC IN EVERYTHING.

Pretty Surprises Met With in a Geneva Music Box Factory.

The chief industry of Geneva is the manufacture of musical boxes. Thousands of men, women and children are employed in the factories, one of which was visited by a traveler who gives some interesting particulars about his visit.

An attendant invited him to take a seat. He did so, and strains of delightful music came from the chair. He hung his hat on a rack and put his stick in the stand. Music came from both rack and stand. He wrote his name in the visitors' register, and on dipping his pen into the ink music burst forth from the inkstand.

The manager of the factory explained the process of making musical boxes, a business which requires patience and nicety.

The different parts are made by men who are experts in those parts and who do nothing else year in and year out.

The music is marked on the cylinder by a man who has served several years of apprenticeship. Another man inserts in the marked places pegs which have been filed to a uniform length. The comb, or set of teeth, which strikes the pegs and makes the sound is arranged by a man who does nothing else. The cylinder is then revolved to see that every peg produces a proper tone.

The most delicate work of all is the revising of each peg. It is done by a workman who has a good ear for music. He sees that every peg is in its proper place and is bent at the correct angle.

When the instrument is in its case, an expert examines it to see that the time is perfect.—St. Louis Republic.

BOOKKEEPING COMES HIGH.

"It makes me tired," said the young man—"these advertisements guaranteeing to teach a person bookkeeping for $10."

"But can't it be done?" was asked.

"Not on your life! Why, I spent six months and over $100 to learn the art, and what do you suppose happened at the close of the first year?"

"Got your figures mixed?"

"Well, I should smile! There was a discrepancy of $700 between the cash-book and my ledger, and my father had to make it good, while I hunted for another job!"—Brooklyn Citizen.

A Financial Shock.

A man went to a local bank with a check which there was no cash on deposit to meet. When the paying teller declined to respond, the applicant loudly demanded to see the cashier.

"We have no 'cash here' for you," quietly responded the teller.

The man with the check saw the point. He moved in circles till he found his way out, tobogganed down the front steps and was led a block by a policeman before sufficiently recovered to make explanation.—Detroit Free Press.

A HARD WON BET.

Carrying Four Bricks Half a Mile Is Not an Easy Task.

"The hardest won bet I ever made," remarked the traveling man as he shook the ashes off his cigar, "was to carry four bricks half a mile. That sounds like a simple thing to do, doesn't it? Well, you try it and you will find out whether it is or not. Of course the manner of carrying the bricks is important. A man bet me that I couldn't carry two bricks in each hand from where we were back to the hotel and put them up on the bar. The bricks were to be put side by side and grasped, two in each hand, between the thumb and fingers, the fingers pointing down. I was not allowed to stop and rest, nor to put the bricks down.

"Well, thought I, that's $2 easily earned, so I took the bet and started. For a quarter of the distance it was easy and I already felt those two silver dollars in my pocket. But then my fingers began to grow tired. The muscles between my forefingers and thumbs were soon aching terribly. My arms began to pain me and to throb like mad. I found myself setting my teeth together and the cords in my neck were in a high state of tension. When I came within a hundred yards of the hotel there was scarcely an inch in my whole body that was not aching as if I had been stuck full of pins.

"I don't know how I managed to go that last little distance. I could no longer stand erect, and I was trembling like a leaf, and yet the other fellow was alongside, laughing as if to split his sides. And when I got into the bar-room, it was all I could do to raise first one hand and then the other and put the bricks on the counter. I know that I couldn't have gone 50 feet farther. I got the $2, but the next day I could scarcely move, and I didn't get over the soreness for a week. It looks easy, but just you try it!"—Detroit Free Press.

THE DOORBELL.

It Tells What Manner of Man You
Are by Your Ring.

Doorbells are pretty fair indicators of character. Probably you have not been conscious of it, but every time you pull a doorbell you register what manner of man you are. Your ring will not tell everything about you, from the color of your eyes to your taste in flowers, but to those who know the signs the doorbell is as good as a title page. Any one who has had occasion to answer bell pulls knows how much difference there is in them. One person's method varies little from time to time, though the difference between that method and somebody else's, while slight, will be sufficiently well marked. It is seldom that two rings are exactly alike.

The housewife recognizes each, the impatient man, who pulls the bell twice in quick succession and does not wait long before trying it again; the one of more phlegmatic temperament, whose ring is slower and more substantial; the hesitating woman, who draws the knob out in a succession of nervous jerks; the seedy individual with matches to sell, who stretches the wire carefully to its full length and then allows it to relax with a faint, apologetic tinkle, and the jolly friend, who knows he is welcome, and therefore grasps the knob with a hearty swing that is fairly eloquent with good nature, and sets the bell to shaking its sides with such peals of echoing laughter that it positively cannot stop at once, but subsides gradually with a merry, irrepressible little titter. A doorbell has as many voices as vis hors.—Berlin (Md.) Herald.

A Tough Bantam.

A letter in a Glasgow paper records a phenomenon much too remarkable to be reserved for Scottish consumption. The writer says: "An acquaintance of mine, who lives up north, has among others of the feathered tribe a little bantam cock. A few weeks ago he noticed that it was looking the worse for a slight difference of opinion with a canine friend, but did not examine it closely till his mother's and sisters' vociferations brought him in a hurry. There was the bantam picking away at corn, but the corn was dropping from a rent in the bird's chest just as fast as it was lifted. Not wanting to kill the bird, my friend got a needle and some horsehair and stitched up the tear, with the result that the bird now is as good as new."

To Test Wall Papers.

Arsenic is very often present in the pigment used for wall papers, and as every one knows, if one covers one's walls with a paper containing deadly poison one's health must suffer. It is important, therefore, to select wall papers which do not contain arsenic, and the method of testing them is simple in the extreme. Take a piece of the paper and light it, and if arsenic be present you will notice an odor like that of garlic. Do not inhale the smoke. Another way of testing the paper is to pour over it a little diluted hydrochloric acid. If the greens in the pattern become blue in this treatment it is because they contain arsenic.—Home Notes.

Be Comfortable.

Devote your energies to being comfortable. Nothing will aid you so much as simplicity. Don't try to follow all the fads invented by fools. In the first place, get a comfortable place to live. Get a good cellar. Get a good cistern. Fix your water pipes so they won't freeze. Fix yourself so that you can be warm in winter and reasonably cool in summer. Have things "handy" around the house. Give up your membership in literary and card clubs and devote your attention to your own affairs. If you can't find enough to keep you busy, it is a sign you don't look very closely.—Atchison Globe.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1899.

WHERE IS THE REPUBLICAN PARTY?

We ascertained through the JOURNAL of yesterday that the Republican party had conscience as its basis for political action and that the cause that gave force to action was a question of right involved in a contention by the South to the right of taking slave property into United States territories under the protection of United States law.

When slavery was abolished by force against the South the foundation upon which the Republican party had built its political structure was removed and the right of the question as presented by the party was settled in favor of its contention and its conscience was satisfied and as a conclusion whatever was done thereafter was of necessity a result of a policy not included in the original contention and as a further conclusion could not have been done as a matter of conscience.

We have learned that the conscience of the party was satisfied when slavery was abolished, and the base, from which the party acted up to the close of the war, was removed when slavery was abolished.

As a humane proposition, can it be that the Republican party has been without a party home since the war?

It is an American proposition for solution by the people at large that includes the whereabouts of the Republican party since the close of the war.

Should the people go to conscience, its original place of abode, and inquire for it, they will find the door closed against the party, and conscience which still lives at the same place, will inform them that it has not known anything about the Republican party, or about its work since slavery was abolished, which reply is beyond any question correct, as it is well known that conscience could not have had anything to do with its work since the war closed.

The people are still in the dark respecting the whereabouts of the party as they have ascertained that conscience has no knowledge of its whereabouts or of its work since the war, and a further search will have to be made by them to discover, if possible, its abiding place.

The JOURNAL owes a duty to the people which is to inform them whenever it can do so upon public matters and one of these public matters is, that it knows the Republican party has no real place of rest as it is a wanderer without a purpose till it receives instruction upon some matter that it is required to do by those who own, feed and care for it.

It is without a native American principle and is engaged in doing work a present in America for the money power in Europe as it prefers foreign employment. Its cohesive principle is opposition to the Democratic party in connection with a satisfied conscience over the results of the war.

When its original sense of right was satisfied its conscience remained true to nature by going into a dead sleep which has continued to the present, which largely accounts for its ap position to all things truly American.

The Republican party is a most peculiar creature in political economy because it is without any established American principle in government economy, and is without any defined American policy upon any question involving the perpetuation of American institutions and is a mere political convenience floating in political space waiting for orders. The party during the Civil war was largely formed on the military system and it continues true to its early training by obeying orders when received from its leaders. The military past of the political action of the party contains in it a threat against the most sacred American institutions because blind obedience to superiors in political matters is the most dangerous condition that can be imposed upon the republic. The obedience of the party to orders given by its leaders has its explanation in the fact that the party is without any foundation principle or policy, and is of a necessity subject to the will and dictation of those who use it. Today it declares for free silver coinage at American mints and to-morrow it will declare against its declaration of to-day by advocating a gold standard for the country because an European money system demands it.

No material damage could come to the country as a result of the party's weakness of purpose, while our foreign policy has in a measure exclusiveness in matters that affected American government interests, but this political nondescript has gone to Europe and fished up a new money policy for the country and has gone to the Philippines at the bidding of a European monarchy and has made war to recover them, and is now on its way to South Africa and will be in the Transvaal if England gets there, and moreover it is now at China shaking its political fist at Russia in the interest of England. There is no telling where the thing will go in the future as it has no American strings on it that it will not break at the demand of a European monarchical government.

THINGS ABOUT LADYSMITH.

The Boer war continues at Ladysmith. Some reliable information has been received at the London war office to the effect that former reports by correspondents of British newspapers were exaggerations of what has passed in and about the town. There were no attacks made by General White's forces, such as were described by late reports. The British continue to hold the town but each day weakens their position, which is known to commanding General Buller recently arrived from England. It will be his first military work to relieve General White and his forces at Ladysmith.

The citizens of the town called a meeting to consider an offer made by General Joubert to allow the women, and men non-combatants, to leave the town, but it was concluded by the people that they would not accept the permission tendered by the Boer commander, and when the meeting adjourned the people sang "God Save the Queen," thus declaring their loyalty to their good lady, the Queen.

A CALL TO DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE.

In another column a call for a meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee is published.

The Presidential contest will be upon us in a few months, which will include political questions that are new to the people. Some of which are in opposition to the traditions of the Democratic party and the policy of the country. The political questions arising upon the innovations made by the Republican party upon the policy of the government and the people demand careful attention and consideration from the committee. The political policy of the party in the State needs overhauling in a way that will secure to the people in the future the control of their State affairs and government to the exclusion of rings and political schemers, who have made merchandise of public offices to the detriment of society and the best interests of the commonwealth.

A General Invitation.

All military, fraternal, educational and other organizations and societies, and the citizens of the State generally are cordially invited to be present and participate in the parade and reception to be given at Reno, Nev., upon the return of the First Nevada Cavalry, and are requested to report to Lieut. Cahlan, marshal of the parade, as soon as possible.

The committee trusts that this public invitation will be considered as addressed to every patriotic citizen and as urgent as if especially communicated, and that it may be accepted in the spirit in which it is given.

COMMITTEE ON INVITATION.
Reno, Nev., Nov. 10, 1899.

The Old Homestead.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Sessions have returned to Reno from a several months visit to their old home at Wapasa, Wisconsin, where they were the first white persons to settle over 50 years ago. They also visited relatives in Connecticut where they celebrated their golden wedding on September 13.

All the World's a Stage.

Ye Wadsworth scribe criticized T. E. De La Matyr for the coldness of his demeanor in the love scene he participates in in "The Nominee."

"That is a role I enact off the stage better than when before the footlights," said Del. after he read the criticism.

"Hir-Suitless" Barristers.

Two rapidly ascending young limbs of the law have parted with that provision made by kindly nature to conceal the awful fissures out of which belches their spell-binding oratory.

They have already repented of their rash acts and are assiduously applying hair restorers to their upper lips.

Wear the Blue.

The JOURNAL is requested to announce that all the Nevada volunteers—Rough Riders and Battalion members—wear their uniforms in the parade Friday. If possible rifles will be obtained and the parade will be given a military appearance so far as possible.

Citizens Again.

Wednesday, the 15th, is the date set for mustering Troop H, Fourth Cavalry (the Nevada Troopers) out of the service of Uncle Sam.

Reception day will doubtless be Friday, as the boys wish to attend the U. N.—U. O. football game before returning.

Another Carload.

The Monarch Saloon received another carload of the celebrated Anheuser-Busch beer yesterday and, as is their custom, Fred and Pete sent a "growler" to the types.

DEATH TRAPS ON A RENO STREET

Some Time There Will Be Funeral Expenses, Costs and the "Old Harry" to Pay.

Last evening Charles Gilson had a narrow escape from death or serious injury. He was walking rapidly down Commercial Row and, while looking at his watch, tumbled into one of those numerous pitfalls that line the sidewalk. It was an open and unguarded trap door in the center of the pavement.

Happily his injuries did not exceed painful scratches and bruises. Both Mr. Gilson and the city are to be congratulated, for if the accident had been more serious there would have been the best of grounds for an action for damages.

We have not had time to look up the law and cannot say to a certainty whether the commissioners are at fault for failing to pass an ordinance regulating the trap door nuisance or whether the officers are to blame for not enforcing a section of the local code, but we believe the liability is with the former. If so, the omission should be made good without loss of time.

LOCAL SHORTSTOPS.

MINES AND MINING IN THIS STATE.

News of Nevada's Leading Industry Clipped From Sagebrush Exchanges.

Deep mining is a project which is being considered at Eureka, where the lowest workings are only 1,200 feet.

The White Pine News says that some very rich ore has recently been discovered in the Obalsman mine at Ely. Nye county has a new mining camp by the name of Southern Klondike. The properties are said to be very promising.

Articles of incorporation of the Charles Consolidated Gold and Silver Mining Company were filed the other day in Storey county. There is a dispute between this company and the Sierra Nevada over the possession of a claim on Cedar Hill.

Last week's ore shipments from Eureka mines were 213 tons, and those from White Pine were 71 tons.

Indications are that the Western Borax Company, which has succeeded to the Conn & Trudo interests in Saline, will work these fields on an extensive scale.

A one-half interest in the Bartell mine in Nye county has been sold and work resumed on the property.

Timbers sixty feet in length have been received at Deer Lodge, Lincoln county, for the Homestake gallows frame.

The April Fool mine at De Lamar has just sent 600 pounds of gold dust to the sampling rooms.—Salt Lake Tribune.

Yon Yonson.
There are a great many plays of various kinds touring the country, but there is not one that the theater-going public likes better than "Yon Yonson" which comes to McKissick's opera house next Wednesday night Nov. 15, under the direction of Messrs. Thall and Kennedy.
There is an indefinable something in this comedy-drama which appeals to the people. It is the only one of the Swedish comedies which appeals to the people. It is the only one of the Swedish comedies which has lived beyond its second year and at the present time its popularity seems to be on the increase rather than on the decline. The company which is presenting it is said to be the strongest that has ever appeared in the play.
It should be remembered by the amusement goers that this company do not leave Reno until the following morning.

Announcement.
I have just received a complete line of working and dress shirts of the latest patterns and styles, which I will sell at bedrock prices. I wish to call particular attention to a working shirt I am handling. It is undoubtedly the best working shirt that was ever sold on the Coast for the money. Call and examine the same.
I have all the latest patterns in golf and negligee shirts, in silks and madras cloths.
I am pleased to announce that I have secured the agency of the Wheeler overall, famous on this Coast as being the best fitting and most durable overall on the market. It is riveted, triple-sewed and made of the heaviest and best denim. Try a pair and be convinced.

Robbed the Grave.
A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in the most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement, I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

A Horrible Liar
Yesterday afternoon the County clerk closed up shop for an hour or two and pinned this legend to the door: "At Riverside hotel, room 20, taking deposition."
This was a false alarm. No witnesses were giving testimony then and there that will ever figure in a court of justice except—should such a possibility ever materialize—in a divorce case.
The truth is, Frank was an interested spectator at the wedding of Dr. Wm. M. Gibson and Miss Walling of San Joaquin.

A Card of Thanks.
I wish to say that I feel under lasting obligations for what Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has done for our family. We have used it in so many cases of coughs, lung troubles and whooping cough, and it has always given the most perfect satisfaction, we feel greatly indebted to the manufacturers of this remedy and wish them to please accept our hearty thanks.—Respectfully, Mrs. S. Dorr, Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by W. Pinniger.

SOMETHING FOR FARMERS TO THINK ABOUT
Possibilities in Culture of the Black Walnut Tree in This State.

Some days ago the JOURNAL called attention to a couple of thrifty black walnut trees that were growing in the Hunter grounds on Fourth street.
Prof. McDowell of the Agricultural Experiment Station called the writer's attention to a black walnut on the University campus.
It was set out, a flimsy sapling, on Arbor day 1891 and now has a circumference of two feet or more and is sturdy and vigorous. It has not yet borne very many nuts but is getting in shape for a crop next year if it continues to produce by geometrical progression.
Prof. McDowell remarked: "If one tree will do so well why not a hundred or ten thousand."

Would Not Suffer so Again for Fifty Times Its Price.
I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. Wilson, Liverman, Burgettstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by W. Pinniger.

The Stolen Stock.
A. J. Hill of Amadeo and H. B. McKissick of Long Valley informed a JOURNAL reporter at the Palace yesterday that some of the cattle alleged to have been "rustled" by Vic Bouton were their property.
The cattle had been branded, the first markings having been obliterated. One of them was killed and the "O" brand was plainly visible on the inner side of the hide. Mr. Hill identified one steer and Mr. McKissick, claiming 51 of them as his own, they were turned over to their rightful claimants.

Officially Informed.
We received "official information" last evening that a new paper had been brought into being in this city.
It is captioned "The Ledger" and is issued on a Monday morning. R. R. Crawford is editor and proprietor.
We intended to notice this birth into the wicked world of journalism at an earlier date but failed to receive the paper in exchange. Bert personally conducted a copy of his newsy little sheet around to our shop last evening.

A Lawsuit.
The blindfolded goddess has been called in to referee a dispute over the ownership of a piano and gymnastic paraphernalia in the club room of the Reno Wheelmen. A defunct militia company claims at least the right of suzerainty over these articles but the cyclists say "Nay, nay, Pauline."
